

Contribute to strategies for promoting community justice and social inclusion

Overview

This standard is about acting upon agreed priorities and objectives for promoting community justice and social inclusion by helping to develop and implement clear strategies. It involves monitoring and improving the strategies in practice, constantly evaluating and re-evaluating them as they are implemented.

The range of stakeholders is likely to include other workers in your organisation, workers in other organisations, inter-agency forums, the population under consideration and politicians.

The term 'community' has been used to mean a set of people who are united either by a common geographical location or by a common interest or aspect, such as their work, gender or a disability. These might include groups and organisations, for example, business communities, young people, minority ethnic groups, the LGBT community.

Indicators of effectiveness should include the outcomes, outputs and targets, inputs and processes, costs and best value.

The support provided will include encouragement and motivation, training and coaching, representation of views to others, information and advice, accessing expertise and resourcing.

There are three elements

1. Develop and agree strategies for promoting community justice and social inclusion
2. Implement strategies for promoting community justice and social inclusion
3. Monitor, evaluate and improve strategies for promoting community justice and social inclusion

Target group

This standard is applicable to those who contribute to the development of strategies for promoting community justice and social inclusion, primarily at regional or local level. It is designed to be relevant to a wide range of agencies, including probation services, social work, the police, prison services, local authorities, inter-agency teams and voluntary sector agencies.
