
Overview

This unit is about procuring supplies – either products or services – from external suppliers.

In larger organisations there are often specialist departments which handle the supply-chain management and procurement functions across the organisation, working to specialist supply-chain management standards.

However, in many smaller organisations, non-specialist managers are required to procure the products and services necessary for the activities for which they are responsible – the function described in this unit. To do so effectively, managers need a good understanding of their organisation's procurement policy and procedures (where these exist) and the relevant statutory and sector-specific requirements. They also need the cognitive skills to be able to assess which supplies and suppliers are likely to provide the best value for money and the interpersonal skills to negotiate with suppliers and maintain effective working relationships with them over time.
