

SFJPE1.3

Evaluate the effectiveness of the operational delivery business process

Overview

This standard concerns evaluating the effectiveness of new and adapted business processes. The scope of work needs to address issues within your own organisation, the interaction between your specialism and others and the strategic implications for the organisation. You need to evaluate the whole range of business processes and identify areas that may be affected including unintentional effects. You need to set quantifiable success criteria and ensure the evaluation programme includes stakeholder feedback. You need to prioritize your recommendations and disseminate the lessons learned.
